

Lt. Governor Becky Skillman's 2009 Celebration of Hoosier Women Artists

Lt. Gov. Skillman Unveils Winners of the 2009 Hoosier Women Artists Competition

Indiana Lt. Governor Becky Skillman announced the winners of her 2009 Celebration of Hoosier Women Artists competition, held in conjunction with National Women's History Month. Skillman held the third annual art competition to highlight female artists from around the state and bring attention to their work.

"These women artists illustrate the fact that Indiana is home to incredibly talented women, who are making a big impact in our communities across the state," Lt. Gov. Skillman said. "These women artists are contributing to their communities in many ways, including economically, and it is an honor to display their art in my office."

In total 103 artists submitted work and Lt. Gov. Skillman ultimately selected seven winners. Artists who submitted pieces were diverse geographically. The winning pieces will be on display in the lobby of the Lt. Governor's office for one year.

Continue on to see the winning art pieces and the name of the artist.

September Fields

Charlene George – Brookville

Corn

Dorothy Chase - Huntington

Sunset on Soybeans

Laura Appleby - Clayton

Snowy Nashville

Pat Siddiq – Morgantown

Scisroe Creek, November 4, 2008 no2

Charlene Marsh - Nashville

Baugo Creek Train

Karen Phipps - Elkhart

Wetlands Sunrise

Laurie Carpenter –Valparaiso